5 Times Hannibal Lecter Shows How Much He Loves William

by Spuuuuuunkkkkkiie

Summary

I want to write something about oblivious Will Graham and patient Dr. Lecter ^_^

Literally, everyone can tell that Dr. Lecter is head over heels and smitten when it comes to Will Graham. But sadly, Will can't notice how much Dr. Lecter loves him luckily our Doctor is a patient man when it comes to his dear Will <33

Notes

Hi guys! This is my first story about Hannigram. I think I am a little bit late for this fandom xD
I hope you like this one! leave a comment or kudos or suggestions if you want me to write something.

I want to read something like Will is oblivious? but I rarely find that kind of fic so i made one :))

I don't belong to any of the characters. It is rightfully belong to NBC and Thomas Harris.

Undeniably, Will is great at what he does. Both as a professor and helping Jack with cases. Sometimes, it takes a toll on him but luckily, he got Hannibal Lecter on his side. But sometimes, even with his unique talent for reading people, Occasionally he can misread Hannibal's actions. Will is not very fan of intimacy towards anyone and he got different ways to express your importance towards him.

5 times Dr. Lecter shows Will is more than a colleague and a friend but Will is oblivious to it.

Hannibal praising Will

Will stayed in his classroom even though his lecture is already over. As a teacher, Will is more comfortable grading his student's work in his classroom rather than in his home or his own office. He feels more productive this way.

While checking some of the essays, Will can't help but notice how his students put great effort into doing their work. Most of them have well-written output and he can't deny how proud he is of his student's efforts. While grading the papers, he heard a knock on the door. Curious about who it is and hoping it wasn't Jack who will probably drag him into one of the crime scenes.

When the person opened the door, Will felt relieved when he saw who it was, which is Dr. Lecter.

"Dr. Lecter, what are you doing here?" Will asked and offer him a seat near his table. It's been weeks since the doctor and the professor met at Jack's office to assist on some cases since Will can't come because it was his student's exam period

"How many times do I have to tell you, Will, you don't have to call me "Dr. Lecter" every time. Hannibal will do" Hannibal said and smiled at Will. "Okay Hannibal" Will replied "What are you doing here?" Will asked again.

" I was hoping to invite you for lunch today. It's already 1:00 in the afternoon and I think you need a little break from what you are doing" Hannibal said. "Do you want to eat here or in the cafeteria?"

Will quickly fix the paper on his table and put aside the one he already graded and the one without grades "Here will be fine. Sorry not fond of the cafeteria. I think I can't socialize well today" Will cleared the table in front of him, and signaling Hannibal to take a seat.

Hannibal pulled the chair Will offered to him and he took a seat.. "Wherever you want Will., Hannibal said.

While they were eating in Will's classroom, Hannibal can't help but read the output the student submit. A little messy, Hannibal thought but it was a great output for an average student, and from time to time, they exchange conversations about Will's profession and his students.

“They are aware that I set high expectations for them but from time to time, they manage to surprise me with their skills and observation,” Will said “The other day, I was surprised with their attention to detail when I present one of the cases I borrowed from Jack. Most of them figured out why the killer kills” Hannibal smiled at Will because he look proud with his students

“Perhaps they have a great skill because they are molded by a great professor,” Hannibal suggest which makes Will blush a little. He didn’t expect Hannibal to say things like this because Hannibal rarely compliments everyone unless they made him impressed. Will was speechless at what Hannibal said and he just laugh it off.

Hannibal let Will use his car for his Dogs

Hannibal was known for many things. His social status, profession, and parties he usually hosts. He is also known as a person who only pursues high-quality equipment or the best of everything. You can see how he cares for his belonging in the way he took care of them.

That is why they earned quite a few looks and attention when Hannibal and Will arrive on the scene with the same vehicle and they can spot a few dogs behind the driver’s seat. Zeller nudges Beverly with his elbow and points out Hannibal’s car. “Am I Hallucinating or there is a dog in Dr. Lecter’s car?” Jack asked and Beverly just shrugged her shoulders.

Jack Crawford immediately greeted Will and Hannibal and welcomed them to the crime scene, not noticing that they arrive at the same time, using the same car. “Good Afternoon Dr. Lecter and Will, what’s with the dog?” Beverly asked “ One of Will’s dogs is not feeling so well. So I offer to take them to one of the best Vets in town-” Hannibal was cut off by Will. Rude, Hannibal thought but that was his dear Will. Hannibal's rules are meant to be broken by Will and he agreed with that. “one of the best, he means the Vet is very expensive” Will joked. Hannibal cleared his throat “Because he was the best Vet for your dogs dear Will and don’t worry you have my word that he will do everything for your dog” Hannibal explained and Will just rolled his eyes

After that, they earned quite a few looks from Beverly and Jack himself “They fight like a married couple” Beverly commented and Zeller just agreed with her.

Hannibal is willing to drop everything to attend to Will’s needs

Will was supposed to be at a crime scene today but he can’t come since he caught a fever and he was not feeling well. Hannibal offered to drop him off in the hospital because of his fever but Will said he was overreacting and he only needed to rest and take medicine.

Hannibal was uneasy the whole day and he was really worried about Will.
“Hannibal? Are you okay?” Alana asked Hannibal when he noticed he was uneasy and it seems like his focus is not on the case they were currently working on. “I am fine Alana. Don’t worry about me” Hannibal replied. Hannibal once again opens the folder with cases on it but it seems like he can’t focus and keep on looking at his phone waiting for Will to message him or call him.

“I was just like that when Margot caught a cold or something and I still went to work,” Alana said smiling remembering how her Relationship with Margot started “ For some, it was some cold but for me, I am worried as hell for my partner you know? So I understand your lack of focus” Alana replied.

Hannibal can’t find the proper words to reply to his colleague and instead of speaking, Hannibal just gave him a nod and start to gather his things. When he was about to leave the building, he run to Jack who seems to be surprised Dr. Lecter was about to leave “Dr. Lecter where are you going? We haven’t started anything yet” Jack asked wondering why the sudden leave “Sorry for the sudden decision Jack but I badly needed somewhere else. I am sorry truthfully.” Hannibal apologized sincerely and Jack, knowing Dr. Lecter and knowing his profession, didn’t bother to ask him more about the sudden leaving. He just gave him a nod and take care and he let Dr. Lecter leave.

As soon as Hannibal reaches his car, he fights every urge to drive above the speed limit so he can attend to Will immediately. He didn’t even bother calling or texting him to know he was about to go to Wolf Trap to take care of him.

As soon as Hannibal saw Will’s house, he tried opening the door and to his surprise, it wasn’t locked so he panicked for a bit. When he saw Will was napping on the couch together with his dogs with a few tissues sitting on the table he immediately go to his side.

“Will? Will? How are you?” Hannibal asked and gave Will little taps waking him up.

“Hannibal?” Will answered with a groggy voice and he sat up quickly. “I thought you had a meeting with Jack?” Will asked still half sleepy.

“I canceled the meeting but don’t worry, Alana can handle him. How are you? Do you need anything? Have you eaten anything?” Hannibal asked and he looked at the room to see 2 boxes of pizza laying on the kitchen counter “I’m going to make you a chicken soup. Rest for a while Will” Hannibal said and guide him to lay on the couch again. Will only nodded as a response and he quickly fall asleep while Hannibal was caressing his beautiful curls and his face.

With Hannibal’s touch, Will seemed to calm down and went to sleep faster than he expected. Hannibal went up and prepared to cook for Will with minimal ingredients.

The things you will do for love, Hannibal thought.

Being Jealous when people are so touchy with Will

Well, the incident of Dr. Lecter leaving unexpectedly during the meeting for Will during his fever incident shocked everyone because, at this point, Will didn't figure it out yet. Somehow, Will's obliviousness entertains them. Everyone thought it was just a typical day when Will suddenly slipped out and that Hannibal took care of him when he caught fever last week.

Flashback
Will Graham just arrived at Jack's office to discuss the new case and the new victim together with Price, Zeller, and Beverly. Beverly immediately asked how he is since he just caught a fever recently. Everyone was surprised when he said, "oh I'm okay now. Hannibal take care of me" like it was a normal occurrence for them. Beverly and Zeller were shocked and can't say anything while Price was just smirking and shaking his head "What?" Will asked curiously from his friend's expression. "So that's why" Jack suddenly spoke behind them making them turn around

"He left eagerly that day. I thought he got something emergency thing to do. Turns out you are the emergency" Jack said smirking which makes Will confused as hell because he didn't have any idea what they were talking about.

They were teasing Will for a good week since that information and Will was blushing nonstop since then. Sometimes, they were occasionally joking during meetings and scenes "Oh no, Will almost slipped down Where is Dr. Lecter?" or "I think Will got another cold should I call the Dr in Town?" Beverly usually is the one doing this which earned a few laughs from his colleagues and make Bill blush hard.

But today is different. Will was about to make a presentation on Serial Killers and the things they have similar in common. Hannibal and Alana were guest speakers for this special lecture but unexpectedly, there is another guest speaker who works as a Psychology Professor at Will's old university named Ethan.

The special lecture ends smoothly. Hannibal and Alana were congratulating Will on how successful the lecture is. They were on now in Will's office discussing another set of the special lectures when Ethan walks in, stealing Will's attention. Hannibal and Alana were sharing glances with Will and the other guest speaker, Ethan.

It was clear that Ethan was hitting on Will and kept on complimenting him about his teaching Job which make Will smile a little bit. Hannibal was starting to feel angry because of the continuous obvious flirting. Sadly, Will was too oblivious to Ethan's flirtatious actions. He just wants to steal Will at that very moment and never share with anyone else.

"You and Margot have a lot of similarities I swear " Alana said while drinking her coffee "When she is jealous of someone, you can see it on her face," Alana said. "But the difference between us, my William seems to be a lack of awareness of how much I adore him," Hannibal said shaking his head.

When Ethan finally left, (good riddance in Hannibal's opinion) Alana and Will talked a little about Will's dog and how they are doing 'Winston love this new toy Hannibal gave him. He won't even share it with anyone else" Will said while showing him a photo of Winston with a big bone teddy bear gifted by Hannibal. Will was swiping other pictures on his phone showing the new bed Hannibal also give to his dogs. "I feel like, anytime now Hannibal will replace me in my dog's heart"

“Will if you don’t mind me asking, how long have you known Ethan?” Alana asked with curiosity. “Well, he used to be my classmate in college. Ethan and I used to do a lot of group work since he is the only one who ask me to be paired or something. He is a nice guy” Will answered and Alana raised her eyebrow at Hannibal signaling him to do something.

Hannibal never felt jealous of other people because he thinks he got everything most people need and want. Status, wealth, and everything else. But it seems like, things change since his fondness for William.

Jealousy is something Hannibal is not fond of.

Hannibal, being Hannibal quickly swayed Will with a new topic, removing Ethan from their conversation. Will be glad continued talking about his dogs and how grateful he is for Hannibal's gift. As Hannibal and Will continue their conversation, Hannibal can feel Alana smirking behind him.

Spoiling Will Graham

“Look I don’t hate it but I don’t love it either. Valentine is so stupid” Will said “the only good thing about this is the chocolates though,” while unwrapping chocolates, sweets, and other things he receives from his students as appreciation.

“Perhaps you hate it because you lack someone to celebrate with it?” Hannibal said, suggesting something. Will just rolled his eyes at Hannibal and continue to unwrap chocolate from his students “I never knew Will Graham has a sweet tooth” Hannibal added while gesturing to all the candy wrappers around his table “Well I’m just appreciating my student’s gift ya know” waving the bags of chocolate he received earlier.

Later that afternoon, they held Valentine's party at Quantico. Everyone was there, Alana, Jack and his wife, Price, Zeller, and Beverly, and some other agents. Will was also there “for the chocolate” according to Beverly. When Hannibal realizes the fondness of Will to chocolate, later that afternoon he bought a chocolate fountain solely to satisfy Will's cravings.

They were a few snacks and drinks on the table and they were having fun in the break from stressful and gruesome work. When Dr. Lecter arrived, he immediately set up the chocolate fountain and his hands is also full of a paper bag of chocolate. He gave everyone chocolate of their own as a token of gratitude for working with them smoothly.

They were the last 3 bags of chocolate when Hannibal was looking for Will and when he finally saw him, he quickly went in his direction. “Hey Hannibal” Will greeted him "The chocolate fountain was amazing. I thought Jack set it up but then Alana told me it was you. It's so good" Hannibal just smiled at him “This is all for you. Purchased from a friend. I promised, they are all good and better than what your students gave you" Hannibal said proudly and gave the will the paper bag. Wil was too astound to react and he look like a kid who you gave a mountain of chocolate.

"Hannibal... You don't have to buy all of these... I am okay with sneakers or Reese I swear. These all look so expensive" Will said shyly and rub his neck with embarrassment "Will it wasn't that expensive and I swear to take a bite it won't disappoint you. I love spoiling you" Hannibal said. Hannibal unwrap a small sweet, and quickly offer it to Will, changing Will's mood again.

The after-party was fun. When Jack and others left, Beverly, Alana, and Will stayed to clean a little bit. " I swear, Dr. Lecter buy you the best of best stuff Will" Beverly commented while cleaning the table they used earlier.

"I keep on saying that he doesn't have to buy everything he sees for me. One of these days I don't have anything that is not given by Hannibal" Will said. "Well he's your boyfriend of course he will spoil you in every way," Beverly said shrugging his shoulders

Will was confused by that and turned to look at his friend "Dating? We are not dating" Will said with a matter-of-fact tone. Beverly gave him a confused look and Alana just laugh a little "Will doesn't even have the slightest idea Hannibal is in love with him" Alana said

Will was confused at the moment. "What?! Did he say that to you?!"

When Beverly realizes how oblivious Will is, she laughs almost snorting, and is surprised too. "Will you are a smart person but you are so stupid for not realizing Dr. Lecter is very into you. I thought you already realized it when he drop everything else when you got a fever!" Beverly said and followed it with a "duh" expression

"Well, how was I supposed to know?! I thought he was concerned as a friend!" Will tried to defend himself.

"Friend? Graham? Friend, who spoils you with everything else? Friend, who let you use his car for your dog?" Beverly said and crossed his arm "Not to mention the tension between him and Ethan" Alana said and while shaking his head

Will sat down for a moment, digesting every information he just received. Well, if you are going to ask him sure, he will not have a second thought to date Lecter but how come he never notices these things? He is so surprised by the facts he just learned.

After a few minutes of teasing and laughing, Hannibal entered the room again to pick up Will since Hannibal offered Will a ride home. Hannibal was curious why Beverly and Alana stopped talking and excused themselves as soon as they see him.

"Will are you-" Hannibal was cut off by Will "You! Why didn't you mention anything about this?!" Will asked which made Hannibal back a little since Will looked a little bit mad.
"Mention what?" Hannibal replied.

“Everything! You never said you like me or you are courting me whatsoever!” Hannibal smiled because of Will’s reaction “Well my dear William does my action confuse you?” Hannibal said and wrapped his hands on Will's waist hugging the professor “You could just say you want to date me Hannibal… you don’t have to do extreme lengths to impress me” Will said hugging Hannibal Back

“So…. I guess this is it? I am your Valentine's date now?” Will said and tilt his head to meet Hannibal’s eyes “Forever my love” Hannibal said and gave Will a passionate kiss.
